

2025 DELAWARE ARTS SUMMIT

AGENTS OF CHANGE

Do you work in arts administration or arts programming? Are you an artist, arts patron, or arts educator? Do you volunteer at an arts organization? If you're interested in the arts, then you belong at the Delaware Arts Summit! The one-day conference brings Delaware's arts community together for a full slate of speakers, workshops, performances, networking opportunities, and timely conversations about the future of the arts.

As Agents of Change we can enable change to happen within our work, our organizations, and our communities. The 2025 Delaware Arts Summit will explore ways to identify the need for change and how to achieve it with new ideas and practices that address challenges, recognize opportunities, and promote future sustainability in the arts.
